My first morning at Ops I took a break and slipped over to Delta for a cup of coffee and a doughnut. The first sip of the coffee nearly floored me and I couldn't figure out what was wrong but guessed it was just a bad pot. Days later I was back again for a cup and the same thing happened. Finally, I inquired and the girl on duty asked what was wrong. I asked if anyone had accidentally spilled iodine in the urn because that's what it tasted like. She was shocked to say the least, poured herself a cup, tasted it, got a big smile on her face, and asked where I was from and how long I'd been in Louisiana. When told her, she broke out laughing, telling me that the "iodine" taste was chicory! Now, this is a TRUE story, I swear! And, for as long as I remained in Louisiana, I could never get used to that taste! Would like to hear from other "old timers" who were at AEX when it reopened in 1950.*

It was the first time I had a "Brick" Building for a "Barracks" and I had a very large room all to myself. The Base itself was easy to "navigate", so you did not lose a lot of time when trying to find the BX, Base Theatre, Etc. I was single at the time and most of my "Free" time I found myself in Alexandria and/or Pineville. I recall spending a lot of time at "Leroy's Lounge" out on a highway, not too far from the Base. I had my first "Swiss-Cheese" Grilled Cheese Sandwich in a Drugstore in Downtown Alexandria and it still is one of my favorites. Since I did not have a car, I relied on "The Grey-Ghost" to get from & to the Base. I worked Part-Time at Two Radio Stations in Alexandria: KDBS and other had Pop/Rock & Roll" on AM and "Middle of the Road/Opera" and other "Boring" stuff on FM (That's where I worked). I do not recall the stations name. I knew a lot of people at England; however, it's hard to put all the names together. So I would be very happy to hear from anyone who may remember me. I have only one full name that I can recall: Paul Balog, Phil (1st only), now "Last Names Only", King, Forner, Whitehead, and a Pilot...Capt. Smith.)*
